district judge jed rakoff had erred at trial in admitting recordings of phone conversations with those she tipped off, as well as transcriptions that barai, who was hard of hearing, had requested.

The number of calls to poison centers concerning bath salts rose to 6,138 in 2011 from 304 in 2010, according to the American Association of Poison Control Centers.

The report also finds that Pennsylvania received four out of 10 possible indicators of promising strategies to help curb prescription drug abuse.